

TRAIL COUNT 2014

8th Annual Count of Trail Users in San José

DRAMATIC INCREASE IN TRAIL USAGE

San José's annual count of trail users occurred at eight stations on September 24 - a large increase was documented at seven of those stations.

- Guadalupe River Trail at Coleman Avenue: 719 in 2013, 1,082 in 2014. A 50% increase.
- Guadalupe River Trail at San Fernando Street: 899 in 2013, 1,256 in 2014. A 40% increase.
- Guadalupe River Trail at River Oaks: This was first 12-hour count. There were 1,689 users passing along and the bridge that links the River Oaks light rail station to the Rivermark community.
- Los Gatos Creek at Hamilton Avenue: 1,217 in 2013, 1,397 in 2014. A 15% increase.

- Los Gatos Creek at Auzerais Avenue: 157 in 2013, 169 in 2014. These counts occurred during the AM and PM Peak periods only. An 8% increase.
- Los Alamitos Creek Trail: 968 in 2013, 789 in 2014. A 18.5% decline.
- Three Creeks Trail at Willow Street: 45 in 2013, 54 in 2014. A 20% increase.
- Five Wounds (Trail - to be developed) at William Street: 369 in 2014. This is our first count at this location. The count was impressive for a corridor with no developed improvements and tracks remaining in place. Parents walking children to nearby school were observed to be a key user of this corridor.
