San José Public Library is actively seeking an Assistant Director

San José Public Library enriches lives by fostering lifelong learning & by ensuring that every member of the community has access to a vast array of ideas and information.
San José California is a unique place that plays a vital economic and cultural role in the nation. San José is the most urban city within Silicon Valley, 10th largest in the U.S., known as the center for the nation’s leading innovative companies. San José is also home to an energetic, talented, culturally, ethnically, and economically diverse population and is located within the beautiful Bay Area.

Quality of life in San José is unsurpassed. Located roughly 50 miles south of San Francisco and 30 miles east of Pacific Coast beaches, San José is situated in a valley surrounded by the Diablo and Santa Cruz mountain ranges and enjoys an average of 300 days of sunshine per year. Those living and working in San José have access to the City's many attractions, cultural and performing arts, and recreational opportunities. A year-round calendar of festivals and celebrations supports the community spirit of this dynamic city. Nearby open spaces provide easy access to mountain parks, trails, lakes, and streams. San José's living and working climate has received accolades from publications including Business Week, Money Magazine, and other national media. Nightlife options include ballet, opera, symphony, live theater, nightclubs, and restaurants; and inquiring minds are served at the Tech Museum of Innovation, the Museum of Art, and the Children's Discovery Museum.

Nineteen public school districts and more than 300 private and parochial schools provide residents with a range of educational choices; innovative programs in local school districts include a nationally acclaimed performing arts magnet, as well as concentrations in math and science, international studies, and more. Local universities include San José State University, Santa Clara University, Stanford University, and three University of California campuses.

San José Public Library (SJPL), proud recipient of the Gale/Library Journal Library of the Year Award and Institute of Museum and Library Services National Medal Award, is an acknowledged leader in providing innovative services to meet changing customer needs. A multi-ethnic and culturally diverse community is served by the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Library and 23 modern branch facilities, most of which were renovated or built new within the past decade. Residents may access resources and assistance from home or office by phone, email, live chat, and texting.

The Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Library is both the City of San José's main library and the campus library for San José State University. It is the first library in the United States to integrate the services and collections of a major university and city and make them available to all. Strategically located on the campus at the corner of 4th Street and San Fernando Streets in downtown San José and across the street from the Richard Meier-designed San José City Hall, the King Library is a cornerstone for the entire community.

San José Public Library's mission is to enrich lives by fostering lifelong learning and by ensuring that every member of the community has access to a vast array of ideas and information. To fulfill this mission and meet the unique needs of its communities, SJPL's current strategic plan prioritizes the development of innovative programs that support academic achievement for students of all ages, expansion of access through digital inclusion efforts and partnerships, and continuous internal improvement to maximize public resources.
THE POSITION

The Assistant Library Director works in partnership with the Director to administer and manage all aspects of service at the San José Public Library, providing oversight of major operational areas and acting as a lead member of the Library’s Executive Leadership Team.
