

Table 1: Comparison of General Plan Horizon Year Growth Capacity at Time of Adoption with Actual Growth Realized

This Table provides a comparison between the amount of new job and housing growth each General Plan was intended to accommodate at the time of its adoption with the actual amount of job and housing growth realized within the planning time frame.

Document	Horizon Year	Jobs to Employed Residents Goal	Jobs			Housing Units			Jobs to Employed Residents Realized
			Plan Capacity	Total Realized	% Realized	Plan Capacity	Total Realized	% Realized
The General Plan (1975)	1990	1.0	220,045	329,090	150%	291,011	258,365	89%	.77
Horizon 2000 (1984)	2000	1.0	447,100	432,480	97%	308,360	281,841	92%	.92
San Jose 2020* (1994)	2010	.80	444,150	432,480	97%	303,118	307,614	101%	.83

Notes:

* For San Jose 2020 Jobs Achieved and Housing Units Built data correspond to the largest amount realized to date.

 This jobs to employment residents ratio is for 2007, and is based on 396,000 jobs in San Jose in 2007 and 480,000 employed residents.