We can have all of this...

Open Space... Agricultural Lands... Wildlife Corridors... Thriving Downtowns...

South Santa Clara County's environment provides a breath of fresh air, but this inspiring setting is at risk. Protecting its creeks, oak woodlands and working farms while supporting the revitalization of local downtowns is key to maintaining the quality of life of this region.

Join Committee for Green Foothills and Greenbelt Alliance for our investigative series as we explore issues facing this area and plan for a future where farms, natural resources, and attractive towns thrive side by side.

- Essence of Life: a Water Tour focusing on supply, flooding, and creeks
- Food of Life: a Farming and Agriculture Panel on the future of sustainable farming
- Quality of Life: an Urban Tour of downtown Morgan Hill
- Components of Life: Bring your ideas to this community design day! Led by professional designers and land use planners; through the use of maps and visual imagery, participants will help create designs to inspire decision makers of this region
